DETAILED ACTION

Double Patenting

1. The nonstatutory double patenting rejection is based on a judicially created doctrine grounded in public policy (a policy reflected in the statute) so as to prevent the unjustified or improper timewise extension of the "right to exclude" granted by a patent and to prevent possible harassment by multiple assignees. See In re Goodman, 11 F.3d 1046, 29 USPQ2d 2010 (Fed. Cir. 1993); In re Longi, 759 F.2d 887, 225 USPQ 645 (Fed. Cir. 1985); In re Van Ornum, 686 F.2d 937, 214 USPQ 761 (CCPA 1982); In re Vogel, 422 F.2d 438, 164 USPQ 619 (CCPA 1970); and, In re Thorington, 418 F.2d 528, 163 USPQ 644 (CCPA 1969).

A timely filed terminal disclaimer in compliance with 37 CFR 1.321(c) may be used to overcome an actual or provisional rejection based on a nonstatutory double patenting ground provided the conflicting application or patent is shown to be commonly owned with this application. See 37 CFR 1.130(b).

Effective January 1, 1994, a registered attorney or agent of record may sign a terminal disclaimer. A terminal disclaimer signed by the assignee must fully comply with 37 CFR 3.73(b).

2. Claim 36 is rejected under the judicially created doctrine of obviousness-type double patenting as being unpatentable over claims 1 and 6 of U.S. Patent No. 6,770,107. Although the conflicting claims are not identical, they are not patentably distinct from each other because claim 36 of the instant application is an article that contains poly(arylene ether), acryloyl monomer, and an allylic monomer as set forth in claim 34 of the instant application. Claim 34 contains the transitional phrase "comprising", which is open to other ingredients. As evidenced by claim 27 of the instant application, the addition of fillers including silicon carbide is preferred. Claim 1 of the '107 patent teaches an article from poly(arylene ether), acryloyl monomer, and an allylic monomer. In claim 6, the '107 patent teaches the polymerization product required by claim 34 of the instant application. Therefore the claim 36 of the instant application is not patentably distinct from claim 1 in view of claim 6 of the '107 patent.

Response to Arguments

3. It is noted that in view of applicant's amendments and comments, the rejections under 35 USC 103(a) over the Wright and Hayase references have been withdrawn.

Allowable Subject Matter

4. Claims 1-35 and 37-40 are allowed.
